

The Massachusetts Office for Victim Assistance

free training on:

Grant Development to Support Victim Services

Participants will develop a general understanding of the landscape of public and private grant funding for program services including; developing insight into why funders make grants, what their expectations are of grantees, and how to use this insight to write successful proposals. Additionally, participants will be given the opportunity to expand upon an existing idea for grant development, and to give and get feedback on those ideas. By the end of the workshop, participants will be better positioned to write a strong grant proposal and will know where to seek additional help for topics/areas warranting further consideration and deeper learning.
